

March 16, 2006

MORE TROUT SAVED: Four more adult steelhead trout have been rescued below a migration barrier in Alameda Creek and moved upstream into Niles Canyon.

This is the ninth consecutive winter the Alameda Creek Alliance has documented ocean-run steelhead in the creek. The alliance hopes to restore a steelhead run there and continue works with other groups in efforts to remove all man-made creek barriers.